A sign is a symbol or gesture that represents a command, a wish, an idea.

Signs give directions and direction is a necessary part of a student's life.

Signs are sometimes material in form, telling of events, indicating a desired behavior. To respond to these directives is a part of growing.

The inner being is sometimes revealed by a sign — a quiet time together, a pensive look, the response of a crowd, the smile of achievement, being with others. These are signs of unspoken things.

The vitality of a school is shown by the signs of life within it. Laughter, work, relief, concentration, exhaustion are all part of the ongoing movement toward a better goal.

ACADEMICS

Social Studies Covers World

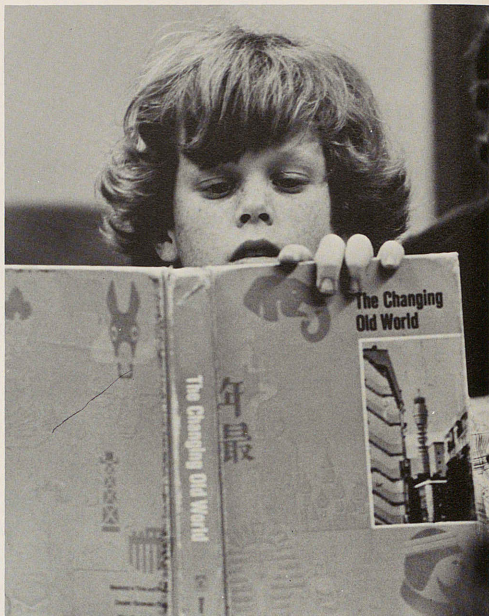

In what might be the beginning of an exploding era of current events, there has been an increased emphasis on social studies at St. Stanislaus.

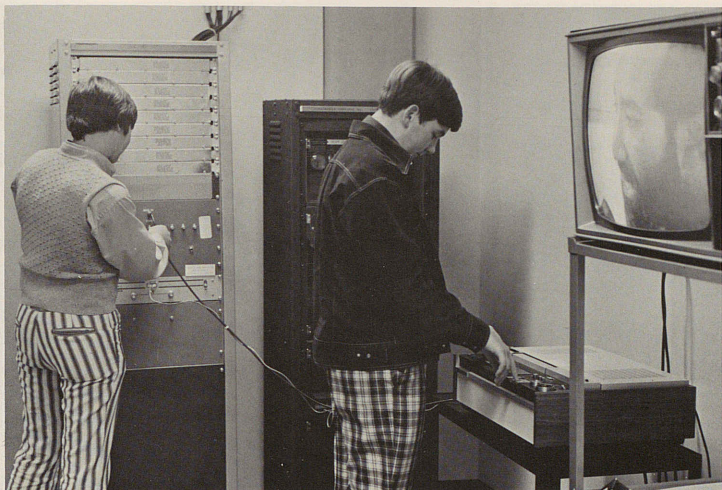

Social Studies is offered on every grade level. The study of local, state, and national government is stressed in the high school department, while world history is the major interest of the grammar school.

This background of awareness provides the student with a sign pointing ahead and a chance to build a better world.

Left: Up to his chin in the history of ancient man is seventh grader Andy O'Brien.

Foreign Languages Challenge Students

Through the study of French, Spanish, and Latin, students gain an understanding of the customs and everyday life of European and Latin American countries. To promote interest in the Hispanic studies, a chapter of the Spanish Honor Society was established. A French Honor Society is planned for the future.

Daily programmed use of the language lab grants students the opportunity to improve comprehension through intensive listening. In addition, filmstrips and tapes of France and Spain double as educational aides in learning the cultural and historical backgrounds of these countries. The booming interest in the study of languages is a sign of a soon-to-come better understanding between all countries of the world.

Challenges of Future Met by Sciences

With signs pointing to an ever-increasing technological society, a strong background in the sciences is a necessity. Much stress is placed on this area of study at SSC. The curriculum offered is varied and challenging.

The General 8th and 9th grade science courses provide students with a broad base of knowledge, which will be beneficial to them in the study of the more specialized sciences of biology, chemistry, and physics.

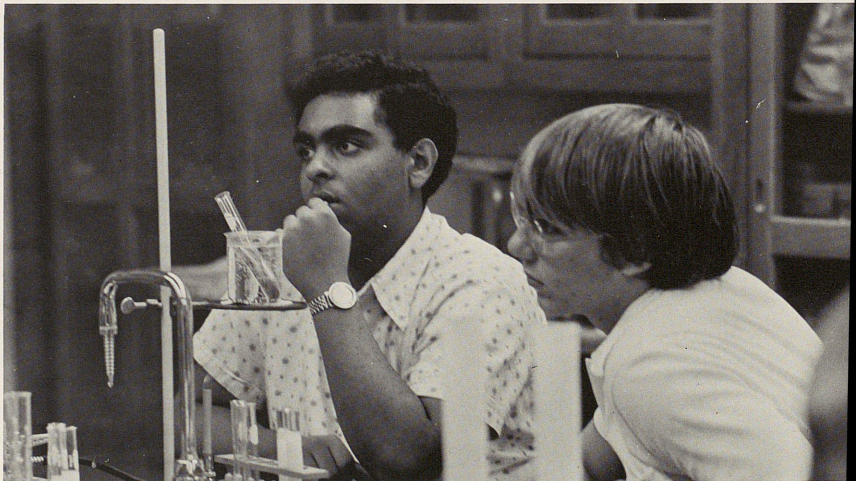

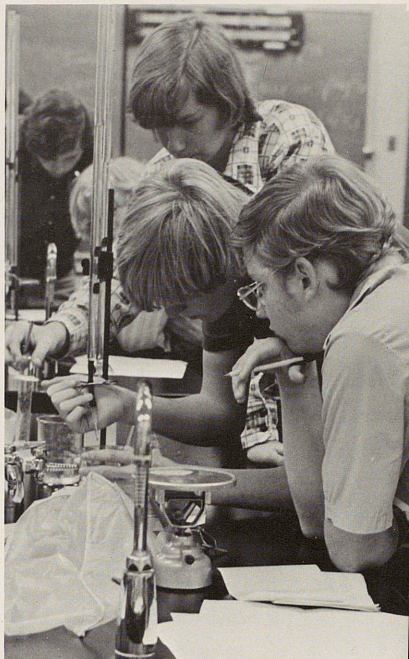

Bacteria culture and dissection of lower forms of animal gives the sophomore biology student a basis for understanding living things.

Chemistry students learn the difference between physical and chemical reactions, and the processes by which they occur.

Gravity, light refraction, electricity and other natural phenomenon are taught to senior physics students. In addition to physics, seniors may take marine biology, and physical oceanography, two interesting subjects designed to prepare them for future study in this area.

Fundamentals in Math, English Stressed

It is the opinion of many professional educators that strong English and math departments are the sign of a great school. The fundamentals of English and math are covered in all class levels, with specialized skills taught during the junior and senior years.

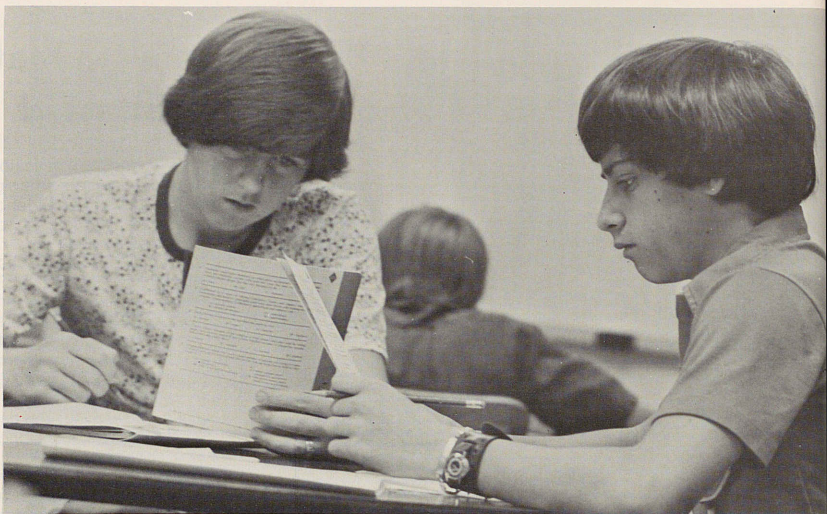

Literature for freshmen consists mainly of short stories and detailed study of the Elizabethan Period. Sophomores study Medieval tales and plays, and Julius Caesar. The history of American literature from Washington Irving to Tennessee Williams is studied by the Junior classes. Seniors receive instructions concerning English literature from the Anglo-Saxon period to contemporary writers.

Grammar is a study of proper writing. The development of writing skills to prepare the student for college work is the goal of all English teachers.

The math curriculum is designed to present the student with a practical knowledge that will aid him in his future life. In his first years at Stanislaus, a student is taught the basics of algebra. As a sophomore he receives specialized instruction in Plane Geometry. As a junior he advances further into the field of algebra with algebra II. During the senior year, a student may choose trigonometry and calculus or senior math.

In English and math courses it is the goal of the teacher to have the student assume the greater role in his education.

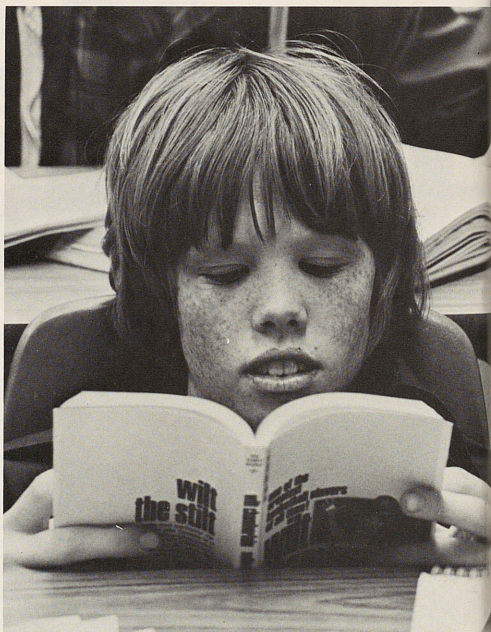

Reading Offers Special Skills

"Enjoyment of reading," is stressed at Stanislaus. This is achieved on both the group and the individual levels. Several times a week the student is provided the opportunity of participating in "small group" activities. In these groups, he develops the skills of vocabulary, comprehension, and listening.

All grammar school students have the opportunity of using the reading lab at least twice a week; on the other days, they read books from the library in the classroom.

Religion Develops Christian Ideals

At St. Stanislaus, the aim of the religion program is to give the students a Christian education. This goal consists of more than just a religion course. Each student is provided the opportunity of assisting at Mass on weekdays. Each student is encouraged to make daily visits to the Blessed Sacrament.

The religion curriculum offered to freshmen and sophomores deals mainly with the teachings of Christ as they apply to daily life. The juniors and seniors concentrate on Christian morality, marriage, and career planning.

There is a special religion program for non-Catholic students, in which they openly discuss common values and teachings of Christianity.

Business Aims for Preparedness

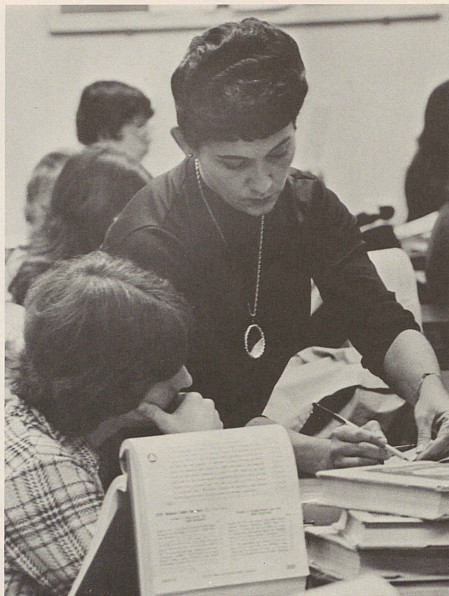

In an attempt to stimulate interest in business, St. Stanislaus offers a wide variety of business oriented courses.

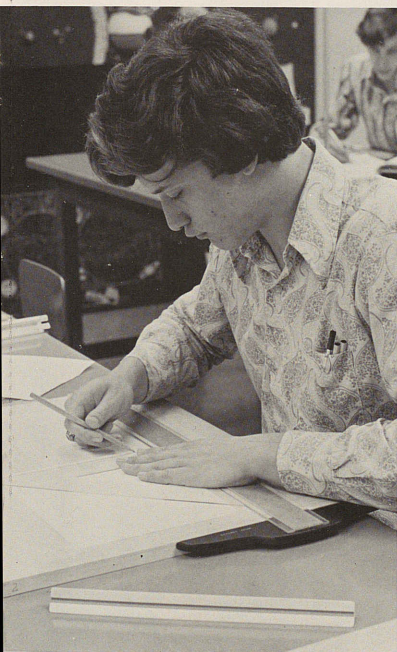

The business class concerns itself with the practices of small business. The mechanical drawing class teaches the student the basics of drafting and its use in everyday life.

A necessity for almost all college bound students is the talent of typing. This skill is offered to all levels of high school students.

Faculty Leads Way In 120th Session

Providing direction for the students was the responsibility of the faculty in 120th school session. Throughout the day they set the example for the students, not only in the classroom as teachers, but also as prefects and moderators of student activities after school hours.

Faculty members came not only from the South, but from all parts of the country. Their experience and education are as diversified as their backgrounds. There are 18 teachers with B.A.'s, 29 with B.S.'s, 6 with M.A.'s, 6 with M.Ed.'s, 7 with M.S.'s, 4 with Ph.B.'s, and one Ph.D. Among the faculty are 19 teachers with two or more degrees.

Altogether the faculty provided the students with the direction and experience established in the previous 119 years.

Five Prefects Direct Boarding Department

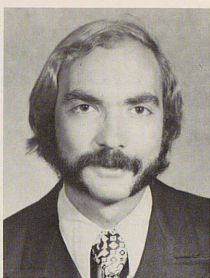

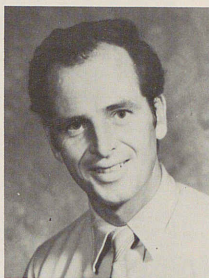

Intensely involved in the total operation of St. Stanislaus are the five Brother prefects who administer the boarding department. These include: Brothers Joseph Donovan, Paul Mulligan, John Abate, Neri, and Raymond. A responsibility which weighs heavily on these Brothers is one of contributing to the guidance of the boarders' spiritual, emotional, intellectual and moral development.

Totally available to the resident student, the prefects devote much time to counseling, organizing a suitable program for the development of good study skills, and establishing a family atmosphere within their own personal group. Through their dedication, St. Stanislaus remains firm in its commitment to the Christian education of youth.

Bros. Canisius, Brother Pascal Celebrate 50 Years

On April 14, 1974, at St. Stanislaus, two members of the SSC faculty, Bro. Canisius and Bro. Pascal, were joined by 135 Brothers of the Sacred Heart to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their entrance into the brotherhood.

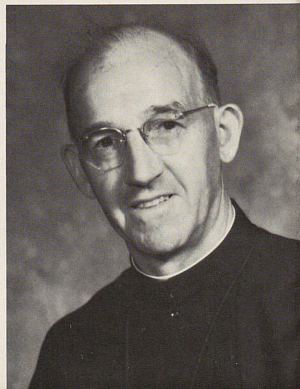

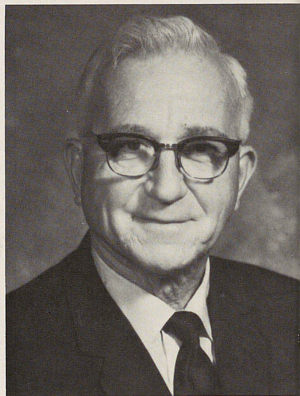

Bro. Canisius was born in Pittsburg, Penn., and entered on April 5, 1924. His assignments have been in New York, Canada, Alabama, and Louisiana. In Louisiana he taught in New Orleans, Donaldsonville, Houma, Thibodaux, and Baton Rouge.

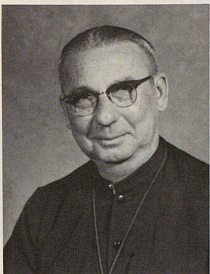

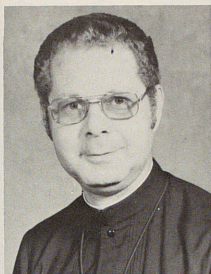

Bro. Pascal was born in McKenney, Kentucky, and entered on June 20, 1924. He served as a tailor for the brothers in Metuchen, New Jersey, for thirty-five years. He was also assigned to Natchez, Miss., Spring Hill, and Daphne, Ala., before coming to St. Stanislaus in 1970.

Mrs. Schmidt Marks 10 Years at SSC

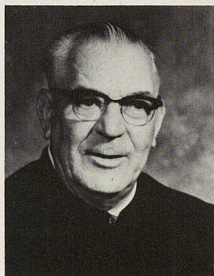

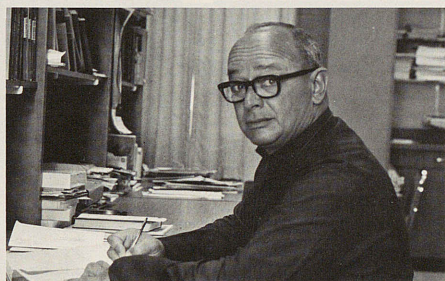

For the past ten years the boarders and day students have received dedicated and professional medical attention from Mrs. Venita Schmidt. Mrs. Schmidt graduated from the Chicago School of Nursing. Before coming to St. Stanislaus she studied and worked in the field of ophthalmology at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Covington, Kentucky.

Mrs. Schmidt lives year-round on the second floor of the infirmary building. From here she takes care of two sick wards and the elderly Brothers. Whether she is called upon to bandage a stubbed toe or to take care of a case of the flu, Mrs. Schmidt is always available and concerned about her boys.

For the past twenty-six years Bro. Noel has been a Brother of the Sacred Heart and for the last seventeen years he has been teaching at Stanislaus. Brother teaches religion and math. During the summer months Bro. Noel keeps busy as director of Camp Stanislaus.

Band Completes Successful Year

One of the most successful extra-curricular activities at Stanislaus was the band. Mr. Davis Williams, the band director, began practice a week before school started. During 1973-74, the band students practiced every day for an hour after school and for two hours on Thursday night. This practice and his own individual efforts won for senior David Labat the highest award given to a band member, the John Philip Sousa Award.

The Most Outstanding Section award went to the French horn section: Mark McCarthy, Robert Wittmann, Royal Kraft, and Mike Haas. Eighth grader Richard Flanders won both the Most Improved and Most Outstanding 1st Year Member awards. A special Director's Award went to Royal Kraft and Robert Wittmann for seven years of band service each.

Marching Band Merits Superior at State

1974 was a banner year for honors earned by the band at contests and festivals. In the Gulf Coast Marching Contest, the marching band received an excellent rating while the drum major, David Labat, got a superior. Twelve superior solo and ensembles awards were earned by band members in the State Solo Contest in Gulfport. At the Gulf Coast Solo Contest twenty-five superior solos and ensembles were received by band members.

In Jackson at the State Band Festival the concert band earned an excellent rating while the marching band received the coveted superior rating. This superior was the first superior rating for the band since 1957.

'74 Prom Held In Gulfport

1974's Junior-Senior Prom was held on April 27th at the Security Savings and Loan Building in Gulfport, Mississippi. The spacious and attractive rooms were decorated by student council members. The students catered the event themselves. This year's theme was entitled "Goodbye, Yellow Brick Road."

Student Council Benefits Students

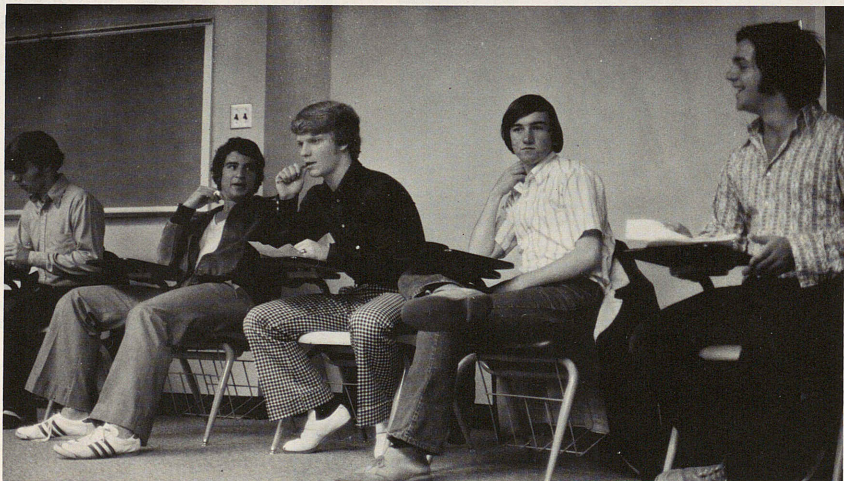

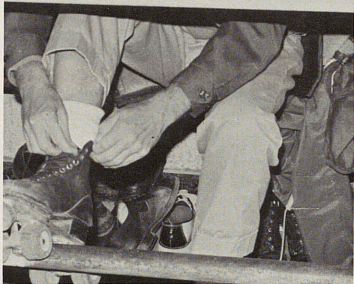

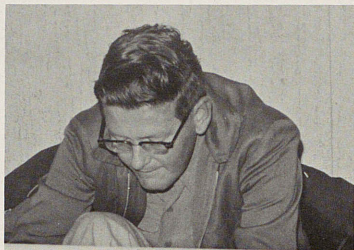

This year the St. Stanislaus Student Council sponsored many various activities. Among these were the Homecoming, the Prom, the intramural games, L.W.A.S., dances, Lost and Found, and the Pep Rallies.

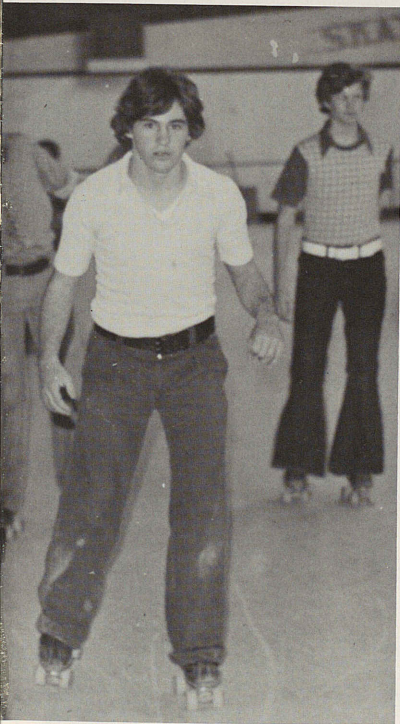

As an honor to the four inductees to the S.S.C. Hall of Fame, the Student Council also sponsored a student assembly. The Student Council made possible a skating party at Keel's Skating Rink in an effort to raise money for the new gym.

The officers include: Steve Calabria, President; Royal Kraft, First Vice-President; Phillip Bouchon, Second Vice-President; David Treutel, Treasurer; and Jimmy Amenta, Secretary.

L.W.A.S. Provides Important News

L.W.A.S. is the reporting section of the Student Council. The '74 L.W.A.S. staff was prompt in putting up the weekly bulletin board, which supplies the students with news of what's happening around the school.

The members include: Tim Romito, Francis Pollingue, Paul Tugwell, Bill Staehle, Monty Elchos and Hugh Ramirez.

Sidelines Club Raises Funds

Composed of interested alumni, the Saint Stanislaus Sidelines Club is an organization which directs efforts at fund raising for the athletic program.

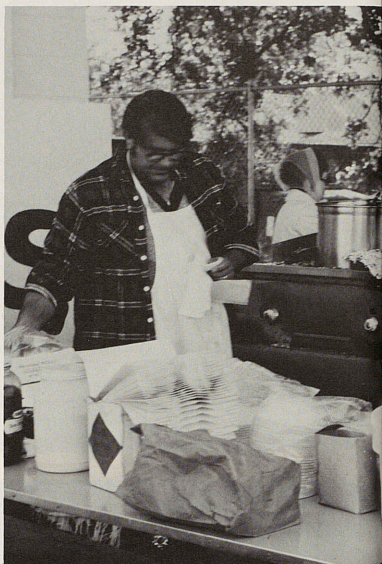

The officers elected for 1974-75 include: President, Gilbert Gayaut; First Vice-President, Henry Logan; Second Vice-President, Harry Bowes; and Secretary-Treasurer, Brother Philip.

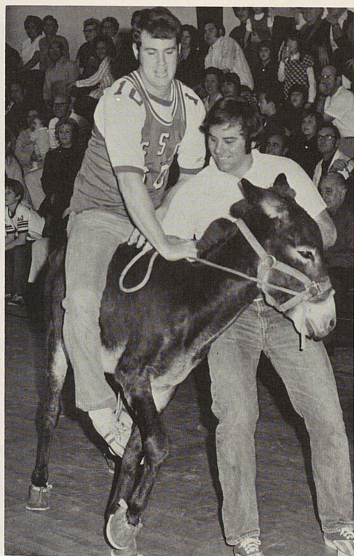

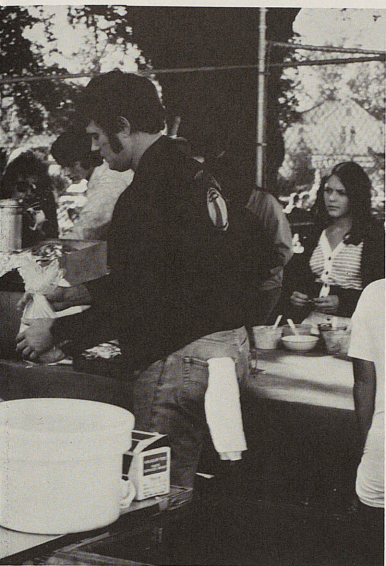

Among the many activities the Sidelines Club sponsored this year were: the Turkey Shoot, the Donkey Basketball game, the March Seafood Dinner, and the annual Fair in May.

Sidelines Club members developed several major projects for the near future. The Club will resurface the track next year and begin covering the stadium seats with red fiberglass. Eventually, they plan to erect a new aluminum storage building at the stadium. The entire Athletic Department is grateful to the Sidelines Club for their continued support and effort toward the betterment of the Athletic Department.

Games, Fun Spark '74 Homecoming

Everything has a beginning and an end. The Homecoming is no exception. Homecoming '73 began on Thursday, November 1, with a spirited and competitive pep rally. The annual Beauty Contest and Tug-of-War rated No. 1 in popularity among events in the pep rally. Other new events were the Three-Legged Race and Balloon Races.

The Court was introduced to the crowd by the Student Council soon after the Beauty Contest and Tug-of-War.

On Saturday following the hard fought game, the Homecoming Dance, which was arranged by the Student Council, started. "Sleazy Ann" played a the dance that ended the '73 Homecoming.

Top: "Sleazy Ann" performs for the enthusiastic Homecoming dancers.

Debbie Presides Over Homecoming

On November 2, 1973, St. Stanislaus held its annual Homecoming Weekend. The Homecoming Court, nominated and elected by the football team, spotlighted the weekend. Queen Debbie Martinez, a freshman at Beauregard High School in Violet, Louisiana, presided over the Court. Her Court included Maureen Necaise, a senior at Pass Christian High School; Tahiria Baker, a junior at Gulfport East High School; Brenda Carver, a junior at Bay Senior High; and Cheryl Fayard, a junior at Hancock North Central.

Pre-game ceremonies began with a motor parade from the school grounds, through the city, and then to the stadium. Student Council representative Royal Kraft introduced the Court to the fans. Mr. Gus Aimes, president of the Sidelines Club, presented Homecoming Queen Debbie Martinez with a bouquet of red roses.

While the loss of the Homecoming Game to Long Beach dampened the pageantry and spirit of the evening, the Homecoming Dance the following night regenerated student enthusiasm.

Reflections Staff Receives Honors

This year marks the '74 Yearbook Staff's greatest endeavor. Under the co-editors-in-chief, Murray Jolivette and Chris Yochim, the yearbook has been enlarged to 160 pages. With Bro. Roy Wittendorfer as moderator the staff is making the '74 Reflections the best volume ever.

Bro. Roy and John Greene, along with the darkroom staff, Karl Hudson and Reggie Eymard, provided excellent pictures. Danny Hayden was added to the layout and copy staff and Lee Eymard to the photography staff.

Last year the '73 Yearbook received an "A" rating from the National School Yearbook Association. The Catholic School Press Association awarded an "All-Catholic" rating, while the Mississippi Scholastic Press Association graded the '73 Reflections as "Excellent." This year the staff's goal is to surpass even that record.

Intramurals Provide Class Competition

Intramurals at Stanislaus provide students not involved in varsity sports an organized outlet for competition. Each year the Student Council organizes intramurals in such sports as football, basketball, and volleyball in both the junior and senior divisions. Each member of a winning class receives a trophy for that sport. In senior division football, class 11-214 won the championship and class 10-223 won in junior division play. In basketball class 12-220 won senior division and class 10-211 took the junior division.

Brother Malcolm, along with student coordinator A. J. Vesich, organized and conducted intramurals this year. Student referees this year were Chuck Wood, Tom Piland, Jim Schott, Mike Jones, Gary Tynes, and Joe Quartano.

Weightlifters Develop Strength, Character

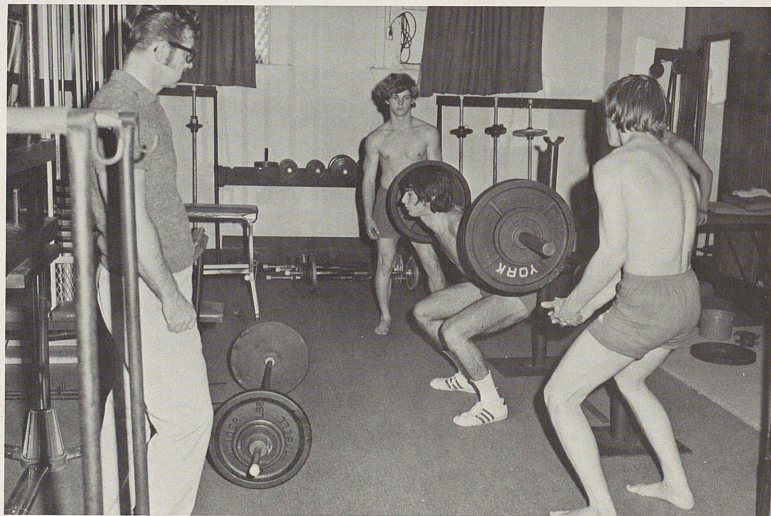

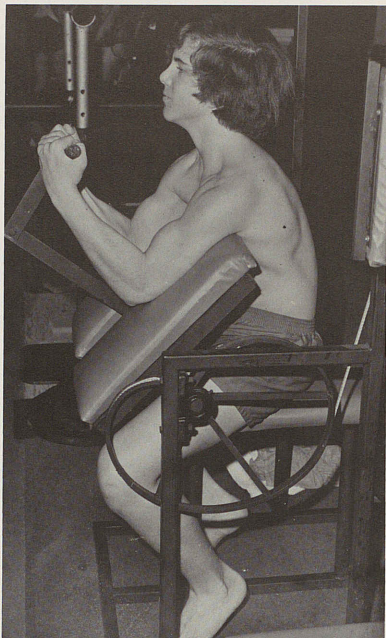

Building physical strength and personal character are the goals of the St. Stanislaus weightlifting club. Now in its fifth year, the weightlifting program has improved greatly since its beginning. The weight room has fifteen exercise units, sauna and whirlpool baths, massage room, heat and sun lamp treatments, wall to wall carpeting, and air conditioning.

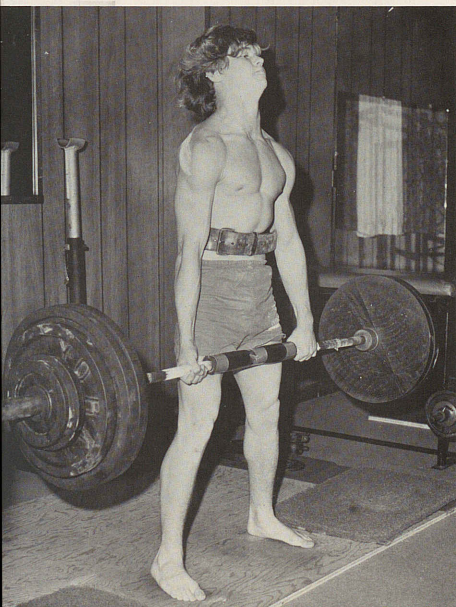

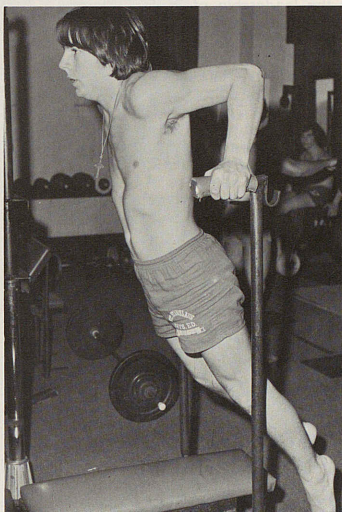

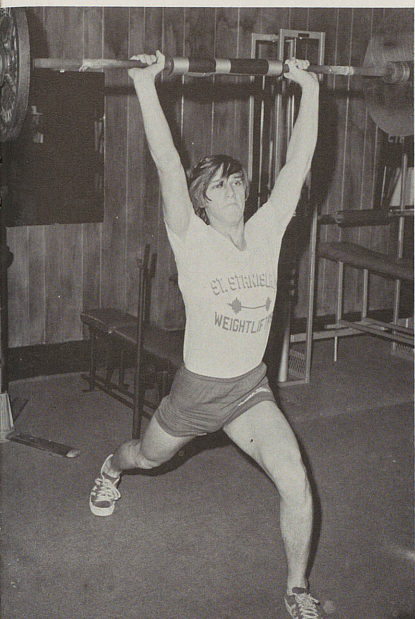

Brother Bennett moderates the weightlifting program with the help of student instructors, Mike Cantwell and Joe Mossy. This year's membership includes over one hundred students. Continuing the precedent set last year, the program also helps football players keep in shape during the off season.

The weightlifting club sponsored the S.A.A.U. Mississippi Open Power Lift Meet. Held on March 2, it included lifters from Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida. In this meet John Ludlow and Matt Romito represented Stanislaus. John Ludlow placed third while Matt Romito placed fourth.

Confraternity and Choral Group Give Their Share

Under the leadership of Brother Pierre, the Confraternity has certainly advanced the growth of Christian values. Enabling the individual to give of himself to those who cannot give back, it generates a more Christian awareness in the school. The student is able to appreciate Christianity in action. The many projects of the Confraternity include: distribution of Thanksgiving baskets, helping the elderly in the surrounding area, and aiding the teachers at St. Rose. Through the action of the Confraternity, the members are able to contribute to the betterment of themselves as well as many of the residents in the Bay St. Louis area.

Helping the individual to learn to enjoy singing, the Choral Group provides the members with an appreciation of music. The high point of the year was the Christmas Concert. This year, for the first time, the band played the accompaniment in one of the Choral Group's numbers. The annual Spring Concert also included a performance by the Choral Group.

Spanish N.H.S. Instills Interest

El Garyoso Chapter of La Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica is in its third year at St. Stanislaus. It was established for the purpose of recognizing high achievement in Spanish by students, and to promote interest in the Hispanica Studies.

This year, the Spanish Honor Society honored Columbus with a Columbus Day display in the Resource Center. Articles brought back by students from their summer trip to Monterrey, Mexico were displayed.

A film entitled Hemingway's Spain, Death in the Afternoon was sponsored for the students by the Spanish Honor Society.

In the fall, members made a special trip to New Orleans for dinner at the Madrid Restaurant and attended a concert by the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony.

The annual induction ceremony was held on March 14 and eleven new members were formally entered into the Society.

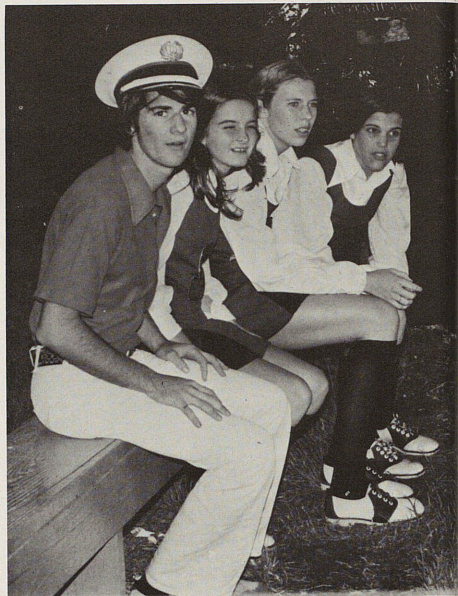

Cheerleaders Lead Pep Squad, Fans

1974's SSC football team had the added support of cheerleaders from Stanislaus and OLA at all of their games. Led by seniors, Tim Romito and Herb McCampbell, the group performed many of the routines learned at cheerleading camp during the summer. They also led the cheering of the pep squad, a group of 60 girls from OLA. Pep rallies, homecoming parade, making signs for games, and hours of practice made up the year's activities.

The '74 cheerleaders were seniors, Tim Romito, Herb McCampbell; juniors, Matt Romito, Jeff Gurtner, Susan Benvenuti; sophomores, Mary Kergosien, Tricia Dickinson, Susie Tabor.

Bob Warner Elected State NHS President

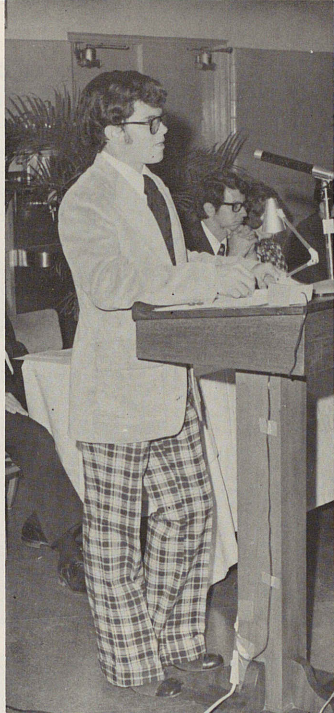

At the 1974 State Convention for the National Honor Societies in Mississippi, junior Bob Warner was elected by the delegates to the position of president for the coming year. This honor was attained through Bob's own efforts and the efforts of all the members of the St. Stanislaus National Honor Society.

During the year the Peter Basso Chapter of the NHS at Stanislaus was led by senior Johnnie Knight. The Honor Society served at the Hall of Fame banquet, ushered at graduation, and hosted the annual Honors and Leadership banquet. At the banquet twelve new members were inducted into the Society.

Dormitory Life . . .

Dormitory life is a unique part of St. Stanislaus. The '74 Reflections decided to open a new section in the yearbook showing the story of resident living at Stanislaus. From the moment a boy leaves home his life style begins to change. He becomes a growing part of SSC.

Right: Reading letters from home comes before homework for some people.

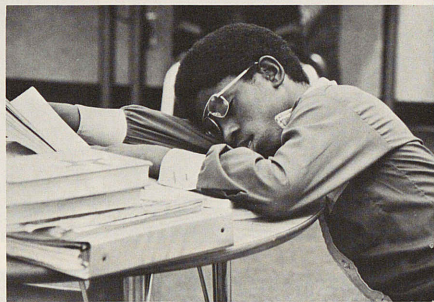

Boarding Has It's Ups and Downs

New responsibilities come with leaving home. The day-to-day needs formerly taken care of by parents are now largely assumed by the boarder. Living closely with other boys his age, the resident student develops close friendships while learning to get along with many different types of people.

Boarders Swim, Fish, Play, and Study

Top: Crowded sidewalks surround the school before the first bell.

Right: Louis Thompson rounds the end for a long gain in afternoon intramurals.

... Organized study is an important part of dormitory life. A boarder learns to develop his study habits in after school hours. Many activities fill free time. Whether swimming, fishing, taking part in organized sports, or simply bike-riding, a boarder has limitless opportunities to occupy himself after school. When a boy leaves SSC, he takes many experiences as a resident student with him.

ATHLETICS

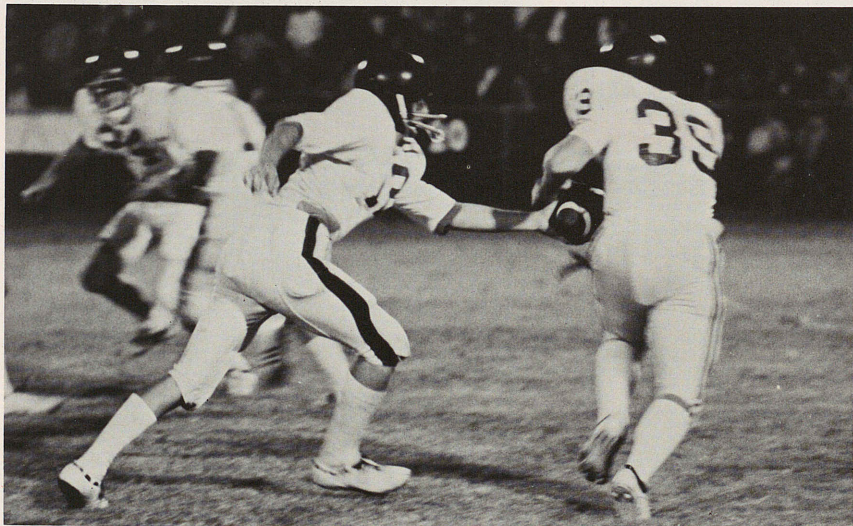

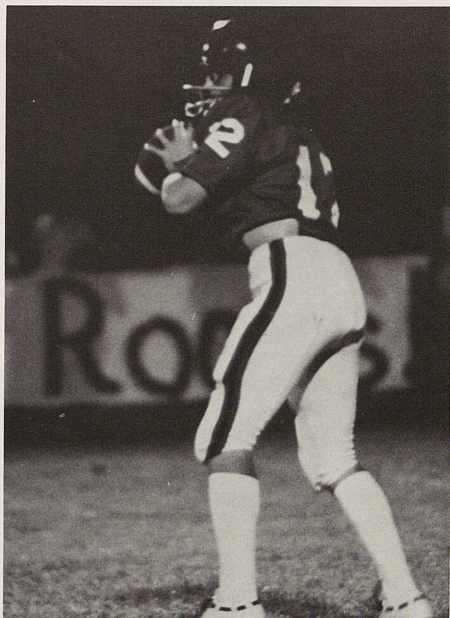

'74 Grid Squad Improves Record

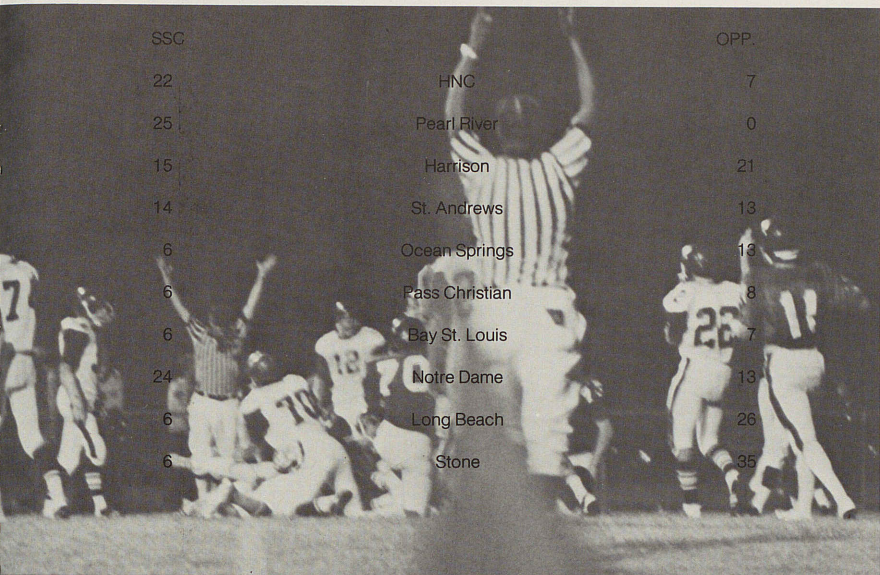

As a team, the Rocks were improved over last year, despite the misleading record. Four of the team's losses were by less than eight points, and two were decided by less than three points, including a heart-stopping loss to crosstown rival Bay High, 7-6. The Rocks led at half (6-0) on an interception and touchdown. However, Bay High intercepted and scored two plays after the second half started.

Coach Barry Jones will have to look to his crop of forty-two younger gridders to carry the team next year with the loss of nine starting players.

Weir, Handshoe Cop Awards

1973 produced a bumper crop of outstanding sophomore athletes. David Weir was voted MOST VALUABLE PLAYER on offense and was All Gulf Coast Conference honorable mention. David led the team in total offense with 890 yards and in passing, 42-105 for a 40% completion record and 642 yards. He also led the Rocks in scoring with 40 points. Another sophomore, David Handshoe won the MOST VALUABLE PLAYER on defense and was also All Gulf Coast Conference honorable mention.

John Ludlow, a senior running back, led the team in rushing with 479 yards and was named to the All Gulf Coast Conference squad. Also, Johnny Knight was named Scholar-Athlete in the Gulf Coast Hall of Fame.

Ninth Grade Team Shows Spirit

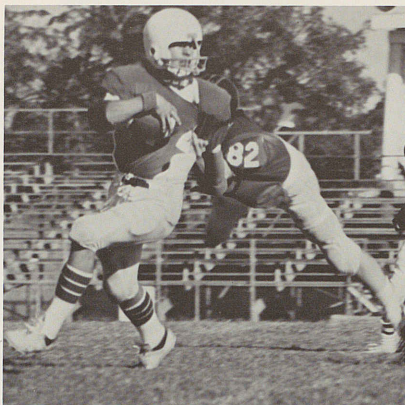

The 1973 ninth grade football team ended up 0-4. The record does not, however, show the real story. The team always played with spirit and sportsmanship unusual in teams that young. Even so, the four losses were all by less than nine points.

This year's team produced many players that could be stars in varsity action. Mike Buckel won the Most Valuable Lineman award, while Perry Elchos received the plaque for Most Valuable Back. Others among the team's stars were Mike Logan, Ken Fayard, Ed Flynn, Martin Hoda, and Estus Connors.

Eighth Grade Team Enjoys 5-1 Season

The 1974 Rock-a-Chaw eighth grade football team finished their season at 5-1. Under coaches Buddy Pitolo and Bob Cuccaro, the team managed their victories over Gulfview, St. Clare, and Hancock North Central. Their lone loss was to Bay Jr. High.

The young team shows promise and many of its players participated in the ninth grade's games. Outstanding players included Bill Kergosien, Chris Wilkinson, Bob McManus, Paul Bertucci, Ed Bunol, Jeff Smolenski, and Greg Hammer.

Varsity Basketball Cops 13-9 Record

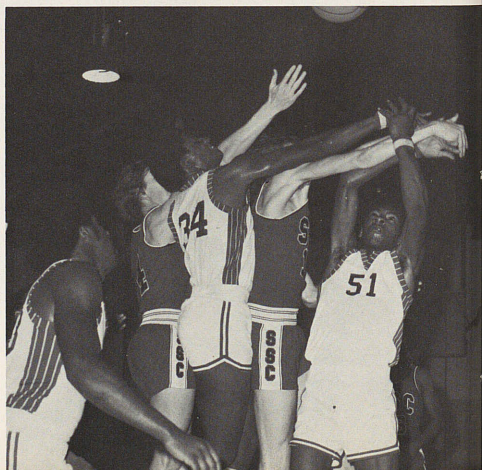

St. Stanislaus' varsity basketball team chalked up a respectable 13-9 record for the 1974 season against tough competition in the Gulf Coast Conference. Senior Gerard Lymuel and junior Will Marler led the Rocks to their sixth consecutive city championship. Gerard averaged 21.6 points a game and Will snagged 10.2 rebounds.

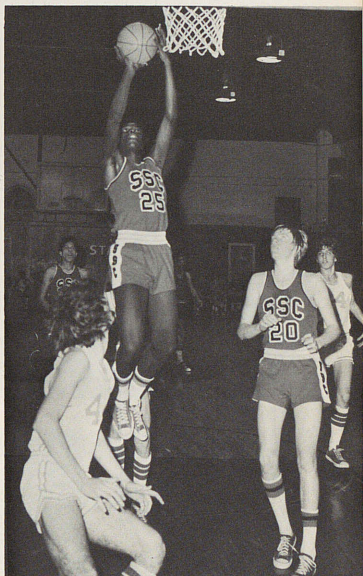

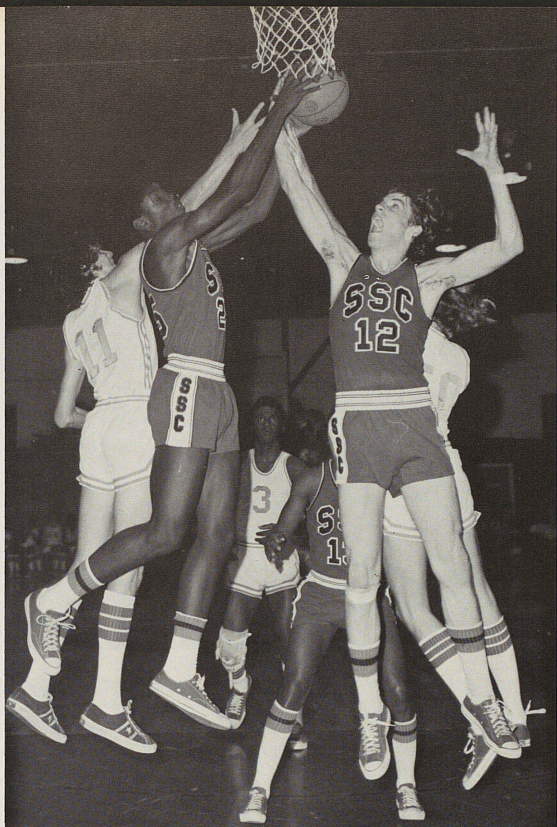

With only two senior lettermen leaving, Coach Bob Cuccaro will have four returning lettermen to form the nucleus of next year's team.

Gerard Lymuel Rewrites Stanislaus Record Book

1974 was the final year of high school competition for one of St. Stanislaus' most outstanding basketball players, Gerard Lymuel. Gerard rewrote the record book in his four years as a starter on Coach Bob Cuccaro's varsity team. For the record Gerard was voted the Outstanding Defensive Player for 3 years and Most Valuable Player for 2 years at Stanislaus. He was selected to the All Gulf Coast Conference Team 3 years in a row. He was named the Gulf Coast Conference Defensive Player of the Year in 1972 and Offensive Player of the Year in 1974.

Gerard Lymuel's career records include: all time scorer with 1,241 points, most assists, most games played, and most games started. In 1974 he led the Rockachaws to a 13-9 record while averaging 21.6 points a game.

J.V. Basketball Team Shows Determination

Despite a poor 2-12 record the junior varsity team did not lack in desire and determination. Valuable experience in fundamentals and actual playing time will help the team members as they move up to the varsity level.

Coach Sylan Ladner's most promising players were Trey Stanley, Wade Dugue, Tim Hunter, and David Brown.

Johnson, Donald Corr, Mark Moran, Danny Vitrano, Jack Morris, and coach, Joey Boh.

Jr. High Quintet Gains Experience

This year's Jr. High basketball season turned out to be more for experience than winning, as the 4-6 record shows. However, the team will not go on unheard of and more impressive things can be expected of them in their junior and senior years.

One of the leading scorers was Paul Brown with a 15.6 point average per game. No team, however, is made up of one person. Danny Vitrano, Charles Piazza, Donald Corr, Martin Hoda, Robert Taconi, Mark Garcia, Steve Longo, Jack Morris, Ronald Johnson, and Mark Moran contributed their talents.

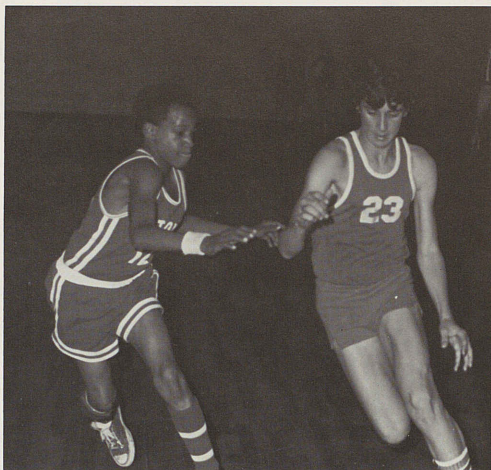

Left: Charles Piazza (no. 54) goes high into the air for two points against Stone County.

Basics Stressed By 8th Graders

Concentrating on the fundamentals of basketball the 8th grade basketball team posted a 2-9 record during the 1974 season. Brother Anton coached his team in the basics of ball handling and shooting. Simple plays were also employed by the 8th graders in their game plans.

Offensive and defensive standouts included Don Pritchard, Peter Lamb, and John Wittmann.

6th Graders Capture 3rd in Playoffs

1974's sixth grade basketball team joined the Gulf Coast West Conference and made the playoffs. They took third place overall. For the season they had a respectable 5-4 record. This year's team was led by the outstanding shooting and rebounding of Eddie LeBreton and Dee Olsen. The capable ball handling of David Grapusa and energetic defensive playing of Caesar Sayoc, David Chaffe and Tim Creswell rounded out the team.

Trackmen Capture 2nd in Conference

Hard work and determination paid off for the 1974 varsity track team. In the Gulf Coast Conference Meet the track team placed second for the 4th consecutive year. In the Conference Meet junior Jim Schott took first place in the mile run and 880 yd. dash.

The track team won three dual track meets and finished second in the Stanislaus Invitational against four other teams. Outstanding individual efforts resulted in 3 new school records: Dewey Hoda, 220 dash — 21.3 sec.; Mike Russell, 100 yd. dash — 10.0 sec.; John Ludlow, pole vault — 11'9"

Jr. High Breaks 12 School Records

The Junior High Track Team under Bro. Malcolm won four of six meets this year. Four conference and twelve school records were broken to make this the most successful season in the team's three year history.

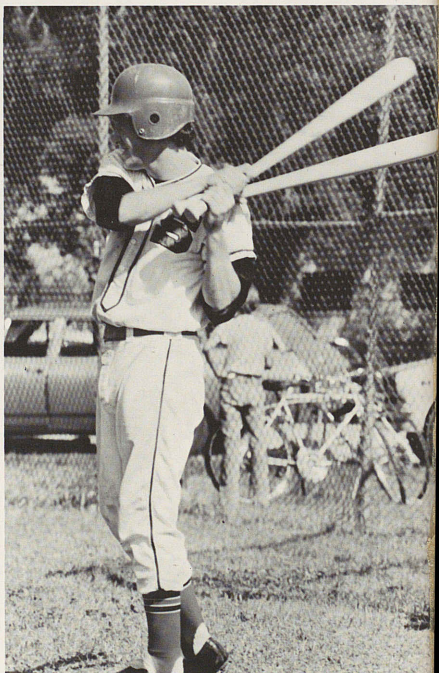

Ed Flynn received the Most Outstanding Event Award (56.7 sec. in 440 yd. dash) and Co-Most Valuable Player Awards went to Martin Hoda (10.6 in 100 yd. and 23.5 in 220 yd. dashes) and Paul Brown (5'5" in high jump and 2:15.1 in 880 yd. dash).

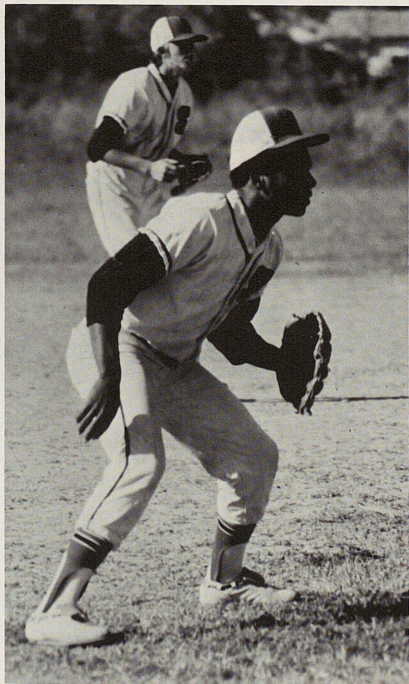

This season the team showed strength and depth in both the track and field events. The many outstanding performances by the seventh and eighth graders give much promise of more fine seasons to come in the years ahead.

Long Baseball Season Nets 2-8 Record

Baseball season proved to be a long and slow season with the team struggling to a 2-8 win-loss record. Three losses were by one run which made them harder to swallow. Mr. Sylvan Ladner was head coach and Mr. Joey Boh his able assistant.

Standouts during the season included senior Gerard Lymuel and junior Dan Ford. Lymuel played third base and batted .379 for the season. For his efforts he received the Most Valuable Player Award at the end of the year. Dan Ford played 2nd base when he was not pitching. As a pitcher he was credited with the team's two wins.

Bay High, Stone Fall to Rocks

Both victories in the 1974 baseball season deserve mention. Against Bay High the Rocks collected eight hits and scored eight runs. Gerard Lymuel had two triples to lead the attack. Dan Ford allowed only three hits.

Against Stone County the Rocks scored three runs in the bottom of the seventh to win 9 to 8. Mike Price singled home the winning run.

Varsity, J.V. Tennis Have 7-1 Records

Both varsity and junior varsity tennis teams finished the season with identical 7 wins, 1 loss records. The varsity lost to Gulfport East 1-4, the first regular season loss by the varsity tennis team in five years.

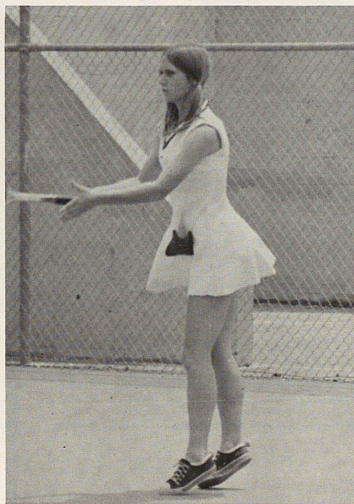

Eight players on the tennis team had very similar abilities. Each player could beat any other member of the team on any given day. Jim Amenta played the number one singles position most of the season, but Tom Piland took over his position by beating Jim in a tournament to determine who would represent St. Stanislaus in the District Tournament.

Leslie Williams, the only senior on the team, and Bayne Dickinson played the number one doubles during most of the season but they were beaten by Bob Warner and Mark Stipulkoski to play in the District Tournament.

Jim Schott, Sam Hunter, and Kevin Carr made up the rest of the team coached by Bro. Pascal and Bro. Paul.

Golfers Gain Experience

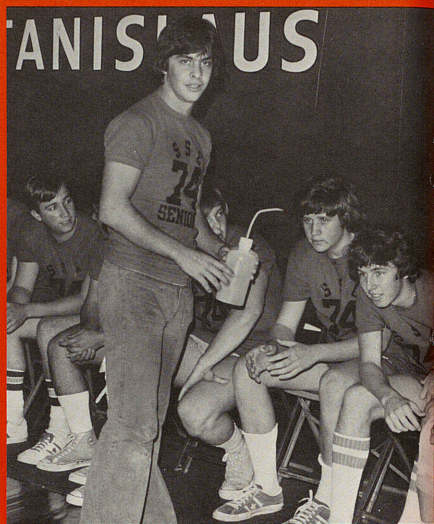

1974 was a lean year for St. Stanislaus and its golf team. It was a year of learning and improving for the two seniors, captain A. J. Vesich and John Leja and three underclassmen: junior Chip Ledet, sophomore Jacques Bell and seventh grader Paul Deshotels. It was also Mr. Bill Poole's first year as coach of the golf team.

Stanislaus's golf team hosted its own Invitational Match at their home course, Diamondhead Country Club. The visiting teams included South Pike, St. Martin, and D'Iberville. Jacques Bell was medalist for St. Stanislaus.

In the Biloxi Invitational held at the Edgewater Country Club the golf team placed seventh in the competition.

73 Graduate In 120th Commencement

Commencement exercises of the 120th graduating class of St. Stanislaus High School took place on Saturday, May 18, 1974, in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Chris Yochim delivered the Salutatory and Michael Keel gave the Valedictory address. Bro. Pierre St. Pierre, S.C., president, conferred the diplomas and Bro. Lee Barker, S.C., principal, served as master of ceremonies.

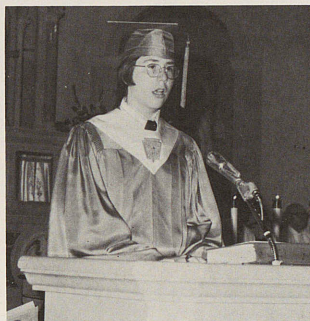

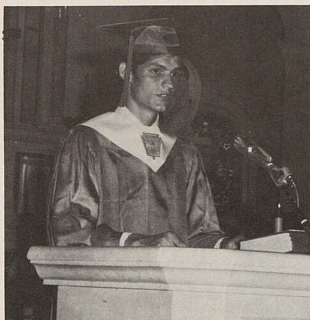

Following the conferring of diplomas upon seventy-three members of the graduating class and the members of the Golden Jubilee Class of 1924, Bro. Pierre presented the following awards: Murray Jolivet, Chamber of Commerce Award; David Labat, Bay St. Louis Jaycees Award; Michael Keel, Character Cup for a day student; Alvin Ladner, American Legion Award; Steve Calabria, Character Cup for a resident student; Royal Kraft, Character Award for a resident student; Paul Tugwell, Conduct Award for a resident student; Jimmie Hart, St. Stanislaus Alumni Association Award. The President's Trophy, the highest award given to a graduating senior was awarded to Johnnie Knight.

HONORS

102 Eighth Graders Earn Promotion

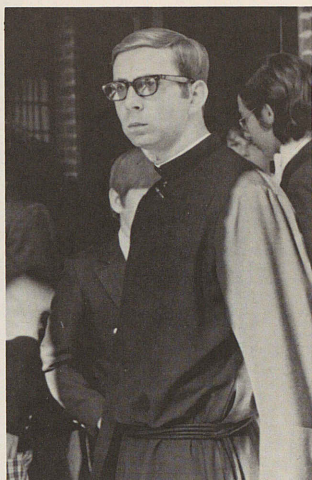

On Thursday, May 25, one hundred and two eighth graders were awarded certificates of promotion. Brother Aquin served as master of ceremonies with Brother Lee and Brother Pierre presenting the awards to the students.

Following the awarding of certificates, honors were presented to the outstanding members of the class. The highest honors of the school, the Character Cup for boarder and day student, were awarded to Roy Andermann and Bill Kergosien, respectively. The Character and Conduct medals were presented to Mike McGinn and Richard Pattin, respectively; and the American Legion Award for a deserving day student was awarded to Tommy Kidd.

UNDERCLASSMEN

In 1974 the junior class took part in every aspect of school life. During the football season the juniors were given the task of organizing a pep rally for the Ocean Springs game and making spirit signs for all the games.

Junior class 214 won the football and volleyball intramurals and each member of the teams received a trophy. In the annual Sideline Fair Marathon Walk, junior class 215 placed 1st, 2nd, and 4th with Paul Sullivan, Jim Schott, and Steve Ledet.

Juniors Take Tests, Help With Work Crews

During 1974 juniors took various tests to determine their achievement and vocational abilities. The National Merit Qualifying Scholastic Test was taken for that purpose as was an Army Achievement Test. The latter included questions on mechanics, mathematics, electrical knowledge, etc.

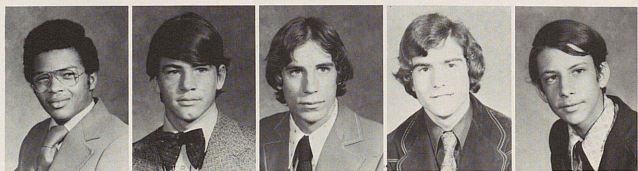

Banisters were installed on the dormitory stairs by a junior work crew. This crew also broke down a section of the old handball courts to make a walkway for the OLA girls.

Activities Engage Talented 8th Graders

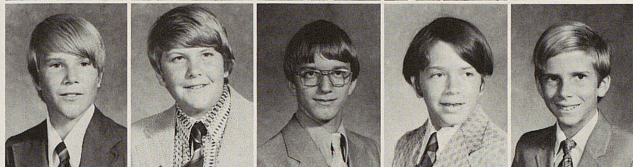

All three 8th grade classes busied themselves in various activities during the 73-74 school year. Ten 8th graders, through their efforts in the band, won superior ratings at the Gulf Coast Jr. High Solo contest. Bro. Eduardo's homeroom went on an overnight camping trip to the Catahoula Creek area. Many of the 8th graders received the sacrament of Confirmation from Bishop Howze in May. Also in May a group of students journeyed to New Orleans on a field trip. The students visited the planetarium at Dominican College and seismograph center at Loyola University. At the end of the year a total of 103 students were promoted to the 9th grade in a brief ceremony in the chapel.

7th Graders Are "On the Move"

Stanislaus 7th graders thrive on activity. Whether the scene is the excitement of a classroom project, the adventure of a group campout, or merely an afternoon of games in the back-field, these boys are always "on the move."

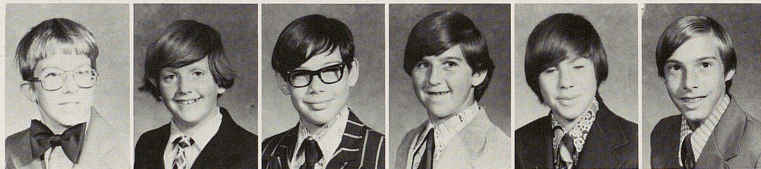

7th grade students used their tremendous energy in many interesting and useful ways this year. Students from all three homerooms accompanied Brother Roy on blackberry-picking expeditions, running crab traps, and skiing in the river. Students helped Brother Timothy construct a stage setting for a local play, and fix table decorations for the various banquets at school. They also helped Brother Raymond and Brother Peter organize and referee intramural football, basketball, soccer, softball, and field hockey games in the afternoons.

Whatever the activity around school one could count on finding a group of 7th graders helping out.

Competition Fills Seventh Grade

Competition created many exciting moments among the 7th graders this year. Throughout the school year the 7th graders competed in various intramural sports. Ranging from flag football to field hockey, these gave 7th grade students the opportunity to take part in organized sports.

The three 7th grade homerooms also generated much competition among each other. During the year the English classes video-taped plays which gave everyone the chance to see which class had the best actors. Later in the year the Mission Drive came along. The three 7th grade classes finished 1st, 2nd, and 3rd with 7-205 having the highest average in the entire school. The end of the school year brought on the annual school track meet. This year 7-217 easily triumphed over the other 7th grade classes.

25 Sixth Graders Learn by Doing

One of the most interesting teaching methods this year in the sixth grade was "learning by doing." Bro. Leon primarily used this in science class bringing the student face-to-face with problems using carefully planned demonstrations involving the students.

The sixth graders studied the charge built up by a Van de Graaf generator. They observed the machine standing the strands of a tinsel mop on end and floating styrophone chips freely within a plastic cube.

In another experiment the students used a stream table to study wave-action and erosion. They constructed models of the levies protecting New Orleans, watched the water eat away the protective barrier, and finally built miniature sand bags to save the endangered city.

. . . The race is over. Graduation marks the close of another year.
Hopefully the signs found everywhere have helped guide everyone to a most productive year.
